Sometimes conscientious design, thoughtful planning and forward-thinking architecture come together in powerful synchronicity in a home. It's rare, but when it happens the results are breathtaking, creating an irresistible harmony of comfort, style and functionality. That's what you can expect at 18B Hambleton Road in Campbelltown.

This three-bedroom, two-bathroom Torrens-titled home impresses from the get-go. It's progressive façade blends exposed brick and timber to eye-catching effect, while the beautifully-kept front yard is lovingly landscaped. A paved driveway leads to the single lockup garage, while a feature timber door invites you inside.

A long passageway extends down the elongated floorplan to the open-plan kitchen, dining and living area. Here three-metre high ceilings instil a theatrical feeling of space,
